Presentation Idea:

Learned about NAMI and their diverse services. Here is their current newsletter

Their speaker presentations are impressive!

Question:

Was wondering if it would be suitable for CSW to host an event with these possible topics that can specifically focus on women:

--domestic abuse

--drug abuse

--homeless

--suicide

--teen related issues (self-esteem, suicide, drug abuse, sexual violence, etc)

A CULTURE OF CARE

TRAUMA-INFORMED PRACTICES
FOR FAMILY-SERVING SYSTEMS

Join community partners and nationally-recognized experts for a day of learning and reflection about how to transform the way we serve young children and their families

NOVEMBER 18, 2019

8:30 AM - 4:00 PM

SOBRATO CENTER | 350 TWIN DOLPHIN DRIVE REDWOOD CITY

A free event for organizational leaders and direct service staff from family-serving organizations in San Mateo County.

FIRST5CULTUREOFCARE.EVENTBRITE.COM

WHY ATTEND

- Gain greater understanding of the impacts of trauma on young children, their families, and those who serve them
- Reflect on their organization's readiness for implementing trauma- and resiliency-informed practice
- Take away tangible ideas and best practices for implementing trauma-informed practices
- Participate in healing practices that can nurture well-being, connection, and learning
- Connect with ongoing opportunities and resources for training and collaboration

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

We welcome systems leaders and service providers in San Mateo County from any sector that serves young children and/or adult caregivers of young children, including health, early childhood education, child welfare, housing, criminal justice, and more.

We ask that organizations send a team of 2-5 people, with at least one who is in a management level position, and one who works primarily with clients and community members. Please share with your teams today, and register early! Space is limited.

Join Grove Foundation, Silicon Valley Community Foundation, and Thrive Alliance as we bring local nonprofit, philanthropic, and civic leaders together with legal and county officials to discuss the new Public Charge Rule and its implications.

The new Public Charge Rule that is scheduled to go into effect on Tuesday, October 15, has created confusion and fear in immigrant communities across the country. Our goal is to provide accurate information about the law and who is impacted, and to share useful tools and resources that you can bring back to the communities to help them navigate the rule and make good decisions for their families.

Event Agenda

9:30 - 10:00 am	Registration & Light Breakfast
10:00 - 10:15 am	Welcome
10:15 - 10:45 am	Overview of the New Public Charge Rule by Hope Nakamura, Directing Attorney, Legal Aid Society of San Mateo County
10:45 - 11:10 am	Public Charge Litigation Update by Tanya Broder, Senior Staff Attorney, National Immigration Law Center
11:10 - 11:30 am	Introduction to New Tools that Assist People in Navigating the New Rule
11:30 am	Next Steps & Adjourn

Since you are a local leader who cares about San Mateo County, we invite you and your team to learn what you can do to support and educate local immigrant communities about the new Public Charge Rule. We hope you can join us for this community forum on such an important and timely issue.
